Essay Contest

Subject: Go Vote: Why Your Vote Counts

DEADLINE: May 1st, 2006

The Central Maine Republican Women is sponsoring an Essay Contest for high school seniors in public or private school, or home schooled. The topic of the essay is: "Go Vote: Why Your Vote Counts" We invite high school seniors to address the importance of every single vote in an election. Voting is the basis of the principles created at the beginning of our democracy and one that most American citizens abuse. Students should keep in mind that only 40 percent of the registered voters across the nation show up at the polls. Length should be between 300 to 500 words. Deadline is May 1st, 2006. The winner will receive $75. in cash.

Judges will be a bi-partisan panel who will look for a well written essay with compelling talking points. Winning essay will be awarded $75. For rules and format call Leilani Stites 564-8739 or Miriam MacArthur 564-0856.

The Central Maine Republican Women's Club was formed after the 2004 Election when Piscataquis County was one of only two counties in Maine to vote for President Bush. Women of any age or race, living in or around Piscataquis County are eligible to join. This club is a member of the National Federation of Republican Women (NFRW) NFRW was founded in 1938 and is a powerful grassroots network of more than 100,000 women that come together as a collective force to advance the power of women through political access and participation.

THE SPORTS CORNER BY BILL SAWTELL HIGH SCHOOL HOOPS

Penquis Boys Lose at Dexter

Dexter 48, Penquis 45

Dexter, January 28--Nick Peirce's steal and layin just before the final buzzer gave Dexter a three-point win here after Penquis had battled back from a 28-16 halftime deficit to take a four-point lead with five minutes left in the contest on an Alex Zwicker fallaway and a Justin Morrill hoop 43-39. The Patriots' only scoring after that point came on a back door layin by Russ Berry at the .59 mark.

It was the heroics of Ryan Martin that spelled doom for Penquis--just as he did at Milo earlier in the season. He hit on a big three and on a hoop in the paint to put Dexter up for good.

Russ Berry played a fine all-around game for Penquis, blocking shots, rebounding and tallying 15 points.

Ryan Martin had 20 and Peirce 14 for the Tigers.

Quarter Scores:

Penquis	13	16	32	45
Dexter	14	28	34	48

"Kiel Larson, Bryan Russell and Caleb Stanley all had excellent performances in the game against Somerset."

Middle School Hoops

Railroaders Down PCMS (Guilford)

Guilford, January 23--The Penquis Middle School boys team led at all the stops enroute to their win here as Kiel Larson scored 10 first half points and Eddie Cobb came off the bench to tally 11.

PCMS was paced by Aaron Ward with 11.

Quarter Scores:

Penquis	16	35	37	42
PCMS	4	12	19	29

Officials: Brown and Wing

Lady Railroaders Go Down in Guilford

PCMS 33, PVMS 18

Guilford, January 23-- After taking a 17-11 lead late in the third quarter, the Penquis girls saw their hostesses storm back by scoring 22 of the final points of the game to win here.

Krystin Chapman led the Lady Railroaders with six; while Megan Martell scored 17 for PCMS, hitting from all over.

Quarter Scores:

Penquis	4	13	17	18
PVMS	7	9	15	33

Officials: Brown and Wing

Railroaders Edge Somerset 42-41

Hartland--Kiel Larson scored 16 points; ten off from free throws; Caleb Stanley 11, eight in the third quarter; and Bryan Russell showed great leadership, hitting a big hoop with nearly a minute to go, as the Penquis Middle School boys won a close one here.

Quarter Scores:

Penquis	8	19	32	42
Somerset	11	15	26	41

Ian Carey, Alex London and Lee Dolley are playing defense against Stearns on Tuesday night. Justin Morrill helped lead the way as Penquis beat Stearns.

League

 Back Row: L to R Coach Lance Gerrish, Greg Hathorn, Justin Brown, Derrek Johnson, Chris Glidden, Zach Eels, Coach Brett Gerrish

Penquis Boys Eke Out Another

Patriots 35, Central 34
 Corinth, January 26--Coming off an overtime win at Orono, the Penquis boys won in a defensive struggle here 35-34, as Justin Morrill connected on two key free throws with 30 seconds left and Russ Berry scored 12.

Tony Hamlin's club came back from seven down at the half to take the pointworthy win and avenge an earlier loss at Milo.

Danny Kane paced Central with 12.

Quarter Scores:

Penquis	6	13	21	35
Central	10	20	24	34

Officials: Berry and MacDonald

Coach Tony Hamlin; The "Young Fox"

Milo, January 27--Having written a biography of Maine's greatest basketball coach, George Wentworth, who had a unique modus operandi when it came to handling reporters, I'm beginning to see similarities in Coach Tony Hamlin's approach. George was called the "Old Fox" for this and other reasons. So let's call Tony the "Young Fox," as he too approaches the 400-victory milestone.

My Apologies BY BILL SAWTELL

I personally apologize to all the athletes I photographed last week in that I used the wrong type of film for that purpose. I will try to remember and acknowledge you here:

- IAN CAREY-for grabbing some big boards in the Orono win
- RUSS BERRY-for key scoring in the Orono and Central games
- KRISTYN CHAPMAN-for scoring in the PCMS game
- JUSTIN MORRILL-for key free throws in Orono and Central
- EDDIE COBB-for scoring in the PCMS game
- CALEB STANLEY-for scoring in the PCMS game
- KOLE STEVENS
- ALEX ZWICKER
- NATE ALLEN

Justin Morrill hit an important foul shot late in the game vs. Central on Saturday. Cole Stevens looks on, ready to rebound.

Erica Lyford and Jenny Stetson had their work cut out for them as they try to stop Mallory Ames from Dexter.

AREA SCHOOL NEWS BROWNVILLE ELEMENTARY NEWS

Brownville Elementary School held their Terrific Kids Assembly on Thursday morning February 26th. Those honored were Any Gallant in Kindergarten, Leila Cuthbertson in First Grade, Keith Grant in Second Grade, Frank Worster in Third Grade, Gage McLaughlin in Fourth Grade, Jordan Nutting in Fifth Grade, and Brittany Lalime in Sixth Grade. Many students were also recognized for their beautiful art work, their birthdays and for being "Caught Being Good." Patriotic as well as Birthday songs were sung, and finally the Sixth Grade band accompanied the whole student body in the School Song.

Sara, Hayley, Jessica and Tianna are displaying the conestoga wagons they built at home for their Oregon Trail unit in Social Studies.

Brownville Elementary recently received a grant for new technology equipment. Mrs. Wright, principal at Brownville acquired a federal/state eMints grant, which allowed the school to purchase $5500 worth of equipment. Mrs. Weston is the lead teacher for this grant and attends training to learn many new practices in technology along with Mrs. Miles, district technology coordinator. Here, their mentor, Mrs. Terry Archer works with Anthony Murano on the interactive whiteboard using the internet. The students are very excited about all the new possibilities.

Fifth graders at Brownville Elementary are taking part in a nationwide program called Westward Ho. The program focuses on the westward movement with the students taking a virtual trip on the Oregon Trail. Schools and students from all over the country are involved in this five week program. Here, Mrs. Russell, involves the students in PE class by having them build their own "wagon", "shelter" and flag for their state. It was a great way to tie in the project into other subject areas.

Shown on the preceding page: Quilting is progressing for 6th graders at Brownville Elementary. The students are about a week from wrapping up their project. Here, Chelsea Cobb gives a demonstration to 5th graders who can look forward to this activity next year. Myrna Ricker, Toni Mihalik, and Debbie Berce have spent several Fridays from 7:30-8:30 teaching the students the art of quilting.

From The Cook School in LaGrange

Our assembly began with Terrific Kid awards. We were pleased to have our guitar man, Ronn Parker, providing our music again this week. For K-1, the Terrific Kid this week is Keegan Lowery. Miss Brown said that Keegan has been working hard this week to use his time wisely. He's been getting his outside clothes on and off independently. Keegan has been listening and paying attention in class. For 2-3, the Terrific Kid is Rebecca Peirce. Mrs. Carter said that Rebecca is terrific every week. She always works hard and never gives up, even when an assignment is hard. She will work through her break time to finish tough assignments. She has not been feeling well the last couple of weeks, but has been a trooper and continued her strong work ethic. For 4-5, the Terrific Kid is Sopheia Farnsworth. Miss K. said that Sopheia has worked really hard to be Terrific Kid this week. She has done her homework every day and finished all her classroom assignments. She is learning to organize her homework to be sure it gets home and back to school. Miss K. loves her good attitude and her nice smile. Bus students this week are Laura, Lilly, and Natasha. We sang Happy Birthday wishes to Rebecca who will be 9 on Monday.

Reminders to parents that our Winter Carnival is coming up on February 17. Volunteers will be needed to set up and help at the carnival. We will be having a raffle for 100 gallons of heating oil. Tickets will be going home with students. The drawing will be on March 3.

Caught being good bags were given to Jonathan, Trevor, Harmony, Kendra, and Haley M

Milo Free Public Library News

By Judith Macdougall

Hasn't the weather been strange this week? It is nothing like the media were predicting in the fall which was a very cold and snowy winter. Such alarmists! I myself have not yet seen a minus number degree although I know temperatures around have fallen below 0 degrees. And as for the snowstorms that plague us every few days---I don't think we've had any accumulation over five inches. I like snow. Not that I ski, snowmobile or engage in any other winter sport except reading by a cozy fire. I just like to see snow in winter. It covers up the messes that did not get cleared away in the fall, and it sparkles in sunshine and in moonlight. Clean snow is beautiful. Well, there is still February to bring us snow. I just hope we don't get it all in March!

Milo and the state of Maine lost a lovely lady this past week. Not only was she a delightful person, but we were lucky enough to have her for nearly 109 years. Of course, you know I am talking about Pearl Hamlin. My family was privileged to know her personally, and she even babysat for my three sons in the late 60's and early 70's. They all adored her. She was young at heart and enjoyed playing Yahtzee with them. She told me how she helped little George, so he thought he was really playing too. The boys were always so happy to have Mrs. Hamlin for an evening. Pearl also worked as a substitute for this library in the early 70's. I can remember having lunch at her house by her invitation, seeing all her projects (leatherwork and rugmaking to name a few), and then driving her to the library where she was going to work the rest of the day. This lady really stayed busy and was so enthusiastic about life. The newspaper has written about many of her interests, but I did want to mention her connection to this library and to my family.

Monday was a busy day at the library. Unfortunately it was a snowy one too, and although we only got a little snow, it seemed to make the streets very slippery. Melissa Hill held her Preschool Story Hour that afternoon and appropriately had the theme "Snow, snow". There were only two preschoolers present- perhaps due to the weather or sickness. However, they enjoyed snow stories. Melissa read The Snowman Book by Raymond Briggs, Snowy Day by Ezra Jack Keats and Geraldine's Big Snow by Holly Keller. They also made Popsicle stick snowflakes -all white and glittery.

In the evening there was a trustees' meeting to which Jane Jones, town manager, and most of the trustees came. One trustee was absent because of attending visiting hours for his grandmother, and one found her road too slippery. The budget was discussed and looked over. Things look good.

Another meeting had also taken place in the reference room that day. Our Literacy Volunteer and her pupil had met there earlier in the afternoon.

We received a preview box of juvenile books from Penworthy. Here are the titles we chose.

Berenstain , Stan	THE BERENSTAIN BEARS AND THE BABY CHIPMUNK
Berenstain, Stan	THE BERENSTAIN BEARS AND THE WISHING STAR
Brown, Marc	ARTHUR AND THE BIG SNOW
Brown, Marc	ARTHUR HELPS OUT
Cobb, Vicki	HARRY HOUDINI (biography) DRAW & COLOR SEA CREATURES
Henderson, Carolyn	LEARN TO RIDE (horses)
Kroll, Steven	THE BIGGEST SNOWMAN EVER
Lock, Deborah	FEATHERS, FLIPPERS & FEET
Mitton, Tony	AMAZING AIRPLANES
Mitton, Tony	BUSY BOATS
Pearson, Debora	KIDS DO, ANIMALS TOO (OPPOSITES)

From the Junior Library Guild we received these two titles for the older juveniles.

Duble, Kathleen Benner	THE SACRIFICE (Salem witchcraft)
Kraske, Robert	MAROONED (The real Robinson Crusoe)

And from Theresa McMannus we received these new juvenile books.

Baker, Keith	MORE MR. & MRS. GREEN (funny alligators)
Field, Eugene	THE GINGHAM DOG & THE CALICO CAT

Traditions of a Milo-ite

by Kathryn Witham

People have asked me repeatedly how I come up with topics to write about...."how do you do it, week after week?" When you write to a deadline every week, like I do, you have to think of it as an assignment. Over the course of your life you've all been given assignments that required deadlines. It may be a physical requirement that didn't tax your brain too much, but a requirement none the less.

When you've got company coming and you want the house to look nice....you have an assignment. Holidays come and go and you have certain responsibilities in order to do your part....those are your assignments, and you get them accomplished all before that deadline of December 25th. Most of us have worked outside the home at one job or another....some of us at multiple jobs....all of them loaded with responsibilities and assignments and deadlines. It's no different than me writing. It's an assignment with a deadline. It's something I love to do. The topics just pop into my head when I least expect it.

I've tried to drum it into my kids and grandkids heads that their "job" is to go to school and get their jobs done. Learn and produce....that's their job! If you aren't good at reading, it's your job to work harder at that....until you can read. If you aren't interested in math....oh well!...keep studying it until you can at least add, subtract, multiply and divide. Cross math off your list of things that you do well, and look for a job that doesn't involve equations. That was me...."numbah than a pounded thumb" in math! I learned long ago that the smartest thing I could do when it came to math was carry a calculator in my pocketbook....wouldn't go anywhere without it.

No, I like to compose and write. I was that freaky kid who loved English class in High School. The invent of the computer has been a boon to me. I already knew how to type...fast...and when the Kiwanis started up their little paper, I just decided to give it a whirl. At first it was going to be the one column. Then I just felt like I had weeks worth of things to say. People would speak to me on the street and in the stores, encouraging me by saying, "I read your column and loved it! You expressed my very thoughts on that subject." Doesn't seem to matter what the topic of my column is; somebody somewhere agrees with me, and tells me about it.

Once in a while somebody takes exception to what I've said, and they tell me that, too. I rarely get into a topic that is controversial...and always am aware when I do cross a murky line of controversy, that someone out there will take exception to what I've written. I feel that it's my right to write and it's their right to refute or rebuke. Usually I have the advantage because I do love to write...and not everybody does. I definitely am empowered because I'm comfortable with myself and my relationship with the pen...or with the computer as the case may be.

Why I do this job week after week popped into my head this morning. I have managed to answer my own question and get a column written, too. This is why they call me the "clever cousin."

On another subject...if you've been wondering what my husband's next project is going to be...here it is folks. We have a little tiny room in our house that has literally not been renovated since 1955! When we moved into this house it was a full bathroom. There was no bathtub...just a shower, lav and flush. It is off the kitchen and the door is one of those accordion doors that were new and modern in the mid 50's. We thought that it was time to update....ya think?! When it occurred to me that it hadn't been changed for 50 years, it freaked me out. Over the years the room has evolved into a laundry room. We kept the flush, but ditched the shower and lav which made room for my washer and dryer. The wall covering has remained the same fake blue tile, however, and the lighting and window is vintage 1955.

We are off to Bangor today to find a new door, new wall color, new window and lighting. We might even be after a new clothes dryer. We have promised the old accordion door to a friend who can't wait to get it installed in her newly renovated downstairs bathroom. Go figure! I'm really glad it's being reused. Perhaps it will get another 50 years of use.

I have stumbled onto a marinade recipe that works like a charm. I've used it twice in the last couple of weeks and it's my new favorite! You can marinate boneless pork chops, steak, or chicken using this recipe.

This is the Basic Meat Marinade recipe:

3 tablespoons red wine vinegar
1/3 cup extra-virgin olive oil
2 or 3 cloves of garlic, chopped
1/4 tsp. crushed red pepper flakes
1 tsp. ground thyme
1 Tbs. chopped fresh parsley, or 1 tsp. dry parsley (Fresh parsley has become a staple in my kitchen...I try to keep it in all the time and we eat it almost every day)

Combine the marinade ingredients in the bottom of a shallow dish (I use my 8" square glass dish). Season your meat of choice and set it into the marinade and turn to coat. You can marinate as few as 10 minutes...but you should turn it a few times while it's in there.

Heat a nonstick skillet over medium-high heat. Add the meat and cook 5 or 6 minutes on each side. Remove the meat to a warm platter and keep warm while you deglaze the pan and make a little pan gravy.

2 Tbs. butter
2 Tbs. chopped onion
2 Tbs. flour
1 cup of beef, chicken or vegetable stock. (The other night I used the water my vegetables had cooked in.)

With the meat removed to a warm platter, turn the burner to a medium heat and add the butter to the skillet, then the onions, and sauté 3 minutes...scraping up the pan drippings from the bottom of the pan. Add flour to this mixture and cook 2 more minutes, stirring constantly. Whisk in the liquid stock and cook another minute or so. Pour over the meat on the platter and serve. If you don't want the meat covered with the pan gravy...put the gravy in a serving bowl with a ladle and serve it that way.

IN MEMORIAM

NORMAN F. BARDEN

MILO - Norman F. Barden, 84, husband of the late Corrine (Pray) Barden, died Jan. 21, 2006, at a Dover-Foxcroft hospital. He was born Sept. 1, 1921, in Milo, the son of William D. and Audrey F. (Hughes) Barden. Norman served with the U.S. Army Air Corps in the Pacific during World War II. He had worked as a dairy farmer on the Brockway farm and then at the American Thread Company and at Katahdin Lumber Company. He was a member of the United Baptist Church of Milo. He is survived by a daughter, Loretta Mason and her husband, Ronald, of Bangor; a son, Michael Barden and his wife, Nancy, of Milo; a brother, Phillip Barden and his wife, Virginia, of Milo; a sister-in-law, Edna Hunt of Milo; six grandchildren, Seth Barden, Cory Barden, Cathy Schulz, Tammy MacEachern, John Mason and Jennie Asher; four great-grandchildren, several nieces and nephews, including a special niece, Ina Banker and her husband, Richard.. Spring burial will be in the family lot in Evergreen Cemetery. Those who wish may make memorial contributions to the Romanian Mission, care of the United Baptist Church, 8 Pleasant St., Milo, ME 04463.

LLOYD HENRY 'WHITEY' GRAVES

BROWNVILLE JUNCTION - Lloyd Henry "Whitey" Graves, 88, passed away Jan. 21, 2006, at Hibbard Nursing Home in Dover-

Foxcroft. He was born May 8, 1917, in Brownville Junction, son of Frederick and Elizabeth Graves. Lloyd was one of the few remaining steam locomotive engineers from the Canadian Pacific Railroad and was an avid outdoorsman, who loved hunting and fishing. He was also an avid baseball fan, having been a member of the team winning the high school county championship. His long commitment as a loyal fan of the Red Sox was finally rewarded with a World Series championship before his passing, much to his delight. He is predeceased by his wife, V. Eileen Graves; five sisters and three brothers. Survivors include his sister, Olive Gallagher of Manchester, N.H.; two sons and daughters-in-law, A. Edwin and Margaret Graves of Nashua, N.H. and Richard L. and Barbara Graves of Milo; six grandchildren, Peter, Patricia, Kathryn and John of New Hampshire and Richard Jr. and Crystal of Bangor; and seven great-grandchildren. In Loving Memory Of TODD ROESING June 26, 1987 - Jan. 26, 2005

Todd its been one year today since you left us. I love you and miss you so very much. It seems like my heart will never mend. There is a void in my life that will never be filled. There are days when I don't think I will make it through. I think of you everyday and shed tears of sorrow for there is nothing else that I can do. I place balloons, flowers and wreaths at the crash site and at your final resting place and wonder how I will make it another day without you. I look at your baby pictures and then through the years and see what a handsome young man you became. When I wake up everyday I think, my God, another day I have to face without you my son. I know my son, I will see you again, when it is finally my time to go where you have gone. You will never be forgotten, you will always be forever in my heart. Semper Fi. I love you, my son. Mom and Dad Brother, we miss you and love. You will never be forgotten. Forever in our hearts. Semper Fi. Lcpl Robert and Lindsay, Jacey, John, Linda, Ben and "Quack, Quack," Melony Uncle Todd Todd, I miss you and the "Bling, Bling." Forever in my heart. Thomas

THREE RIVERS KIWANIS NEWS

CHILDREN: PRIORITY ONE

The Three Rivers Kiwanis Club meets at The Restaurant each Wednesday morning at 6:30 to eat breakfast, enjoy fellowship, hear speakers on various interesting topics, and to share ideas. All are welcome to visit with us. If you would like to join our organization, please contact Dorothy Brown or any other Kiwanian for an application. We are involved in many worthwhile local projects and would be very pleased to have you participate in them.

JANUARY 25, 2006 MEETING HIGHLIGHTS

President Chris Beres greeted ten members and seven guests this morning and introduced Doc Sherman from The Dover-Foxcroft Kiwanis club. Doc then introduced the interclub from Dover today, Andy Hinckley, Past President Brenda Kelley, Hoyt Fairbrother and "Sugar" Bob Moore. Kathy Witham introduced guests and our speakers for today, Rob Borden and Julie Knowlton.

The flag salute was led by Eben DeWitt.

Paul Grindle led us in prayer this morning requesting that we strive to be the best that we can be.

Several happy dollars were donated for the wonderful life of Pearl Hamlin; another happy dollar was donated for having guests here today, happy dollars for Key Clubber, Kylie, as she has received four college acceptance letters thus far.

Reports:

Paul Grindle gave a report on Key Club Activities. He noted that there are only six home games left. Food has been selling very well at the games.

Chris Almy reported that there was a ¾ of an interclub at Sunrise Kiwanis in Dexter last Friday.

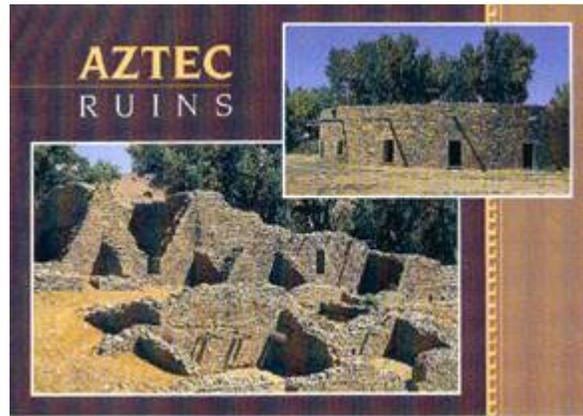

Chris Beres advises that the Kiwanis e-Club Bulletin was published by Jan Barton this past week.

Joe Z. discussed the canoe race that is planned for the summer. He is looking for Kiwanis volunteers to work on this project. Please call him if you are able and willing to assist.

Kathy Witham introduced our speakers for today, Rob Borden and Julie Knowlton fifth grade teachers at Milo Elementary.

Rob and Julie, and several second grade teachers were able to write a request for a science grant, based on motion, from Semi-Conductor. The grant will provide monies in the amount of five thousand dollars for the second and fifth grades to use in a science project. They will use kits to demonstrate what they have learned about motion. It promises to be an exciting time for the second and fifth graders as they work together on this wonderful project in the very near future.

Respectfully submitted by Dorothy Brown, secretary.
