Cook School News

Mrs. Russell has begun her winter unit in P.E. It's one of the most fun times of the year in physical education! Last week the kids were snowshoeing. Cross country skiing will be next. What great lifelong activities for our children! Here the kids at the Cook School are taking a short break for a "photo op"!

Students from Lynn Gerrish's Desktop Publishing class became authors for the second graders in Brownville. Using Adobe's Creative Suite, the high school students wrote and illustrated stories for Lillian Perkins' students. The second graders filled out surveys of their favorite things and Mrs. Gerrish's students created personalized stories for their new friends. The project took two months to complete, culminating with a story time on January 14. The high school students visited the second graders, where they presented and read their stories to the students and participated in some second grade activities as well.

All the students had a great time.

Milo's Terrific Kids

Mrs. Carey - Our Terrific Kid honor this week goes to a little girl who is respectful to all her friends and the adults in this school. And she follows the Golden Rule by treating her friends fairly and kindly. We've talked a lot about Martin Luther King, Jr. during the past two weeks and we know that he would be very proud of this student. She may be tiny, but she has a BIG caring heart. We are very thankful to have Cassie Mann in our kindergarten family.

Mrs. Walker - 2010 is a new year and is starting out swell for this Kindergarten boy. He is coming in happy in the mornings with a new attitude to get his work jobs done in a flash. He hops to get his jobs done and no more complaining..... We WORK and then we PLAY!!!! This TK loves Transformers and is trying to teach MRS.WALKER all about them. He Loves everyone!!!! He has two older brothers he cherishes and loves. Congratulations, Ethan Bishop!!!

Mrs. Hayes - This terrific kid loves to share his knowledge with the class. His work has improved and his writings are much longer. He got his first "big book" in reading this week and he is very proud of how his reading sounded when he was reading it for the first time. He likes fishing, playing DS and play station and sliding. We are proud of the progress Cameron Smith has made and we are watching for more growth in the next few months.

Mrs. Barden - Our terrific kid this week is a sweet little girl. She is a great reader and her penmanship improves every day. She loves to help her teachers and is learning how to have patience. She will need lots of patience when her mom has the new baby sister or brother in the spring!! Congratulations to Isabelle Sickles on her new baby and on being a Terrific Kid.

Mrs. Hussey -This week my Terrific Kid is a wonderful little boy named Lucas Tate-Gendron. He's an active listener, willing helper, and quiet worker. He does a great job keeping track of his schedule between our room and Miss Howard's room. He's so terrific that one day this week he won prizes from both teachers!! Keep up the good work, Lucas!

Mrs Tardiff - Lani Rideout- This girl comes in every day with big smiles for everyone. She has a pleasant attitude and great sense of humor. She also is a good worker. She tackles all work with enthusiasm. If only she could remember her glasses!! Congratulations to Lanil!

Mrs. Dunham - Our Terrific Kid is a girl who comes in each day with a cheery smile. She is hard working, kind, and polite. She has shown good progress in her reading and writing. She is always willing to help a friend in need. Her dog stories are always a treat to hear. We enjoy having Brittney Robinson in our class.

Mrs. Mills - Our Terrific Kid has waited patiently for this award. She is a hard worker, a patient student, and a helpful friend. She has been working hard on her reading and multiplication facts. It is always nice to see her come into the room each day. Congratulations to Katie Black.

Mrs. Whitney - 4Whitney's Terrific Kid this week has worked very hard on his attitude. BIG changes since last year for the good! He is more cooperative and easy going. He seems more grown up and mature. I like this change in him and urge him to keep up the good work. Congratulations on being a great fourth grader, Eddie Witham!

Mrs. McMahon - Mrs. McMahon's Terrific Kid is Noah Zambrano. Noah is a wonderful student; he enjoys reading very much and his math scores are through the roof! Not only is he a very attentive and responsible student, but he's also a kind and caring friend. He also LOVES to be active outdoors, especially playing with friends and skiing. Keep up the great work and congratulations to Noah Zambrano!!

Mrs. Knowlton - One student in 5K has been working very hard to improve her behavior. She set a goal and worked hard to reach it. Her behavior has been OUTSTANDING this week! She is a good friend to her classmates and a great clarinet player. Congratulations, NATASHA EMERY! WAY TO GO!

Mrs. Gillis - She always gives us a great big "Hi", Country music and dancing make her smile, Tossing beanbags with her adds fun to our day, She's our Joyful Jordyn with a capital "J"! Congratulations to Jordyn Mills!

Mrs. Clukey - This week's Terrific Kid from 6C has had a very productive week. He has been reading his biography book every day along with keeping up with his reading in his traditional literature book. He has his hand raised constantly in social studies answering all my questions. Furthermore, Mrs. DW said he is doing great with his division mad minutes in math. So, I am real pleased to say Zackary Lewis is this week's terrific kid.

Ms. Dixon-Wallace - The Terrific Kid in DW 6 this week is a student who was new to our school this year, but you would never know it. He has become a very integral part of both 6th grade and Milo Elementary School. He is an active member of the band, the Civil Rights Team and Robotics. He has been working very hard on his organizational skills, including reorganizing his binders for all his classes over the Christmas break. All of his hard work has been paying off. He is doing great in all of his classes. Congratulations to Joshua Martin, this week's Terrific Kid in DW 6. I am very glad you are part of our class and school.

Three Rivers Kiwanis, Milo-Brownville
January 20, 2010
Regular Morning Meeting

Meeting called to order at 6:45 a.m. There were twenty members present at the morning meeting at the Hobnobber's Pub. Doc and Tim attended from Dover and Lillian Costello, president of the Builder's club, was also present.

Eben led us in the Pledge of Allegiance and Edwin offered the Morning Prayer. Joe Zamboni has a birthday on the 24th. The inter-club last night was canceled due to the weather. The next inter-club is February 2 at Greenville.

Dover Kiwanis will have a social event on February 16 at Abels Blood's and their first canoe race meeting is tonight, rain or shine. They are also making dolls for children visiting the hospital to help comfort them.

The Division 2 caucus is Saturday, January 23rd in Bradley. George and Heidi will attend as delegates and will be nominating Ethelyn Treworgy for Lt. Governor.

RIF books for preschool have been ordered and there will be a distribution next week. Heidi will contact preschools for days and times. Jan will visit Milo Head Start on Monday, January 25, for a book distribution.

George is compiling a list of guests for a supper sponsored by Tom and Nancy as part of a membership drive. Jim Macomber will update the club brochure prior to the supper.

Ethelyn will be working with Stephanie on the Variety Show, May 7th, and will keep us posted.

There were sixteen Happy/Sad dollars: Business after hours at Penquis on Tuesday from 5-7 and a Piscataquis Santa project meeting on Thursday at 6:00 p.m.; Women of Worth conference April 21 at the Penquis Higher Education Center; Ethelyn's son-in-law can do just about anything, but Ed's the Boss?; several happy dollars for Ethelyn as Lt. Governor nominee and Ed thinks he might just for a fleeting moment really be the boss; many HAPPY dollars for Chris and the Republicans; and Nancy had a weak moment and will be the secretary of the club for the next year and a half.

Jim Macomber, speaker chair, stepped up to speak today, as the speaker was not able to attend due to weather. Jim reviewed the time frame for entering events into the local papers for public notice: 4-6 weeks is preferable. If we have events and send photos to Jim he will also get these published.

Jim also shared information about the Penquis Leadership Institute hosted at the Higher Education Center. Participants meet one time a month at different locations and work on projects to support growing business and industry. The cost is $350.00 per person to attend.

We would like to thank Jim for speaking today.

Milo Free Public Library News

Judith D. Macdougall

Finally a sunny day (Thursday) after another two-day snowstorm. Steadily the snow came down, just enough to make the streets constantly messy and causing accidents in busy places. For two weeks we did not have anything in the way of snow, which was pleasant. Now the weather is warming up again, the snow is melting, but it will freeze and make more ice. I laugh to myself as the weather forecaster speaks of 10 degrees as frigid, because I remember a week or more of -20 in the "good old days". I wondered if I was remembering correctly, but this past week they have been speaking of record cold weather of -24 and -28 and have begun to point out those record cold temperatures were in the 1970's-"a very cold decade". It's interesting to know that I was not just telling myself we were tougher in the old days.

Margaret Pinette's sister, Roberta Laverty, gave the library a gift of money in honor of Margaret's December birthday. Several years ago her brother decided not to give gifts of "things" but told his family to pick their favorite charity, and he would donate to it in their name. That idea caught on, and now her family members enjoy thinking of clever ways to honor their siblings by giving to others. This year Margaret knit several pairs of mittens and gave them to the Secret Santa project in her brother's name. Margaret chose the library to receive her charitable gift, which is why Roberta sent us a check. I had just sent for the January selection of books, and as Margaret was working with me last Saturday, I let her choose 4 books from the list of books for her gift. She was delighted to see Noah's Compass by Anne Tyler as she had been planning to read it. She also chose The Queen's Governess by Karen Harper, Remarkable Creatures by Tracy Chevalier and A Fair Maiden by Joyce Carol Oates. This latter one has not arrived yet. What fun to receive extra money over the book budget. Pam has made up book plates explaining the circumstances of the gifts, and one book plate will be placed into the front of each of Margaret's 4 books.

Joel Green, our custodian, is always thinking of ways to make the library better. As winter has come on, I have been upset to see so much mud tracked onto our new tile floor. Audrey, a sub, also thought it might make the floors slippery and dangerous for older patrons. I left a note for Joel to see if he had any ideas on the subject and to ask him where we could possibly put the rugs down. We have a problem as our doors open inwards and rugs have previously been too high to put them on landings in front of the door. Joel ran some suggestions by Pam and me of where he thought he could place the rugs. When we agreed with him, he measured and ordered 3 rugs. We now have dark gray rugs on two landings and across the floor to the desk. We have only had the rugs in place for a few days, but I know so many patrons will be pleased as they have suggested rugs by the doors before. Joel gets things done. He is a big help to our library.

Jessie, Lily, and Emma were honored as Terrific Kids at our assembly.

Mrs. Nott: Jessie is my terrific kid this week! Jessie has done a wonderful job this week with getting himself dressed and undressed for recess quickly. He pays attention during lessons and works hard to learn new things. Jessie has done well this week following directions. Great job, Jessie!

Mrs. Johnston: Lily had a great week as always. She does her work quietly and carefully, always gets her planner signed and her homework done, and is a good friend to the class. She was a big help this week in helping to keep our room clean!!

Miss K.: Emma is a Terrific Kid every day. She works quietly and independently. Emma is kind to all and an outstanding role model. She completes all of her assignments and does her homework each night. Thank you, Emma.

Bus Kids: Jimmy J, Lily, Jordan Caught Being Good Prize Winners: Jeremiah, Colleen, Donny, Michael I., Jacob

Birthdays: Miss Laurie, Miss K. (Together they are 102 years old). Upcoming Events: Students are collecting Pennies for the Children in Haiti. The money will go directly to help children at an orphanage in Haiti. Congratulations to all of our Terrific kids.

Milo/Brownville/La Grange 4-H'ers take part in MLK Diversity Day in Bangor

Martin Luther King, Jr. Day offered Milo, Brownville, and La Grange 4-H'ers an opportunity to learn about the importance of diversity, tolerance, and service in our communities. About 15 4-H students from MSAD 41 joined students from schools in Bangor, Old Town, and Orono to take part in the first University of Maine MLK, Jr. Diversity Day at the Bangor Mall on January 18, 2010. The students were invited as part of the UMaine-Milo Partnership. The event was put together by the UMaine Bodwell Center for Service Learning and the UMaine Multicultural Center.

Milo 4-H'er, Morganna, holds up her piece of a mural students created during MLK Diversity Day activities. The students were given words such as Freedom, Equality, Community and Leadership and asked to create scenes depicting their interpretations of these words.

Sha-Lynn of La Grange performs Martin Luther King, Jr.'s famous, I Have A Dream speech with puppets. The Brownville and Marion C. Cook Elementary Civil Rights teams, performed the speech as well as leading a sculpting activity.

MLK Diversity Day teaches teamwork and the importance of community.

UMaine Athletes and faculty led games, told stories and created many other activities for the Diversity Day. 4-H'ers took part in team-building games led by members of the UMaine field hockey team and discussed the importance of tolerance and being "change agents" in their communities. Students were also treated to Native American storytelling by members of the UMaine Wabanaki Center. The Diversity Day opened with a performance by the UMaine Theater cast of Hair. The performance featured songs from the popular 1960s musical.

The final activity was the creation of a mural. Students broke into groups and were led in a discussion about the meaning of words such as Freedom, Equality, Leadership, Community, Service, Tolerance, and Diversity. Students then created scenes depicting these words. Students created various scenes such as a Liberty Bell, their hometown, their families, or even their favorite animal. The scenes were placed on a large felt fabric displaying each of the students' pictures. The mural will be toured and displayed in the home schools of the students who took part. Arrangements are also being made to have the mural displayed in the Bangor Mall.

Milo 4-H'ers Cora (L) and Autumn (R) make sculptures as a part of the activities of led by the Brownville and Marion C. Cook Elementary Civil Rights teams.

4-H'ers Cora (L) Diamon (C) and Cymeria (R) prepare their scenes for the mural at MLK Diversity Day. The mural will appear at the schools of the students who participated in the program this Spring.

4-H Afterschool Spring Program looking for Volunteers

The 4-H programs in Brownville, Milo and Marion C. Cook (La Grange) Elementary school is preparing for its spring program and is looking for volunteer help. The program has an exciting program planned. Students will continue to learn media technology such as digital photography, audio and multimedia as well as engaging in traditional activities such as agriculture, science, and arts and crafts.

The program is looking for volunteers of all ages, interests and experience who would be willing to bring snacks, lead games and craft/science activities, lead excursions and more.

The program will begin again at the end of February/early March. Programs occur from the end of school until 4pm on Mondays in Milo, Tuesdays in La Grange and Thursdays in Brownville.

If you are interested in helping out this spring, please contact Andrew Barnes (207) 478-0650 or send him an email at abarnes@umext.maine.edu

MILO AND ENGLEWOOD FL - Ruth E. Bell was called home to be with her heavenly family on the peaceful morning of Jan. 18, 2010. Ruth married Harold in November 1946 and they lived their first few years in Bangor. After their move to Derby in 1956, Ruth raised their children and kept her home for her family. She and Harold fully enjoyed their time together. They bought their camp on Shoodic Lake in 1968, where they spent many happy years and made lots of friends. In 1987, they retired to Englewood, Fla. As her children and grandchildren grew up, she turned her efforts to giving to others. She made hundreds of mittens, piles of quilts and gave her time, energy and efforts to those who were in need. She truly became an angel here on earth long before going to heaven. She is survived by her loving husband of nearly 64 years, Harold F. Bell; her sister, Madeline Kinney of Easton; and her brother-in-law and his wife, Dana and Paula Bell of Texas. She is also survived by her daughter, Cheryl and her husband, Steve Hamlin, of Milo; her son, Richard and Dorothy Bell of Lakeview; her daughter, Pamela and her husband, Gene Worcester, of Gouldsboro; and her son, Thomas Bell of Englewood, Fla. She will also be greatly missed by her many grandchildren, Darcy Worcester, Mike and Michelle Hamlin, Kimberly Cage, Amanda Worcester, Austin, Karen and Kristen Bell; as well as by her great-grandchildren, Greg and Britney Hamlin, Sean, John and Michael Robertson, and Emily, Camden and Caleb Cage. She will surely be missed by the many people she touched throughout her amazing life, including her special little friend, Felicia Hannon. She was predeceased by her son, Lawrence Bell, in 1996; and her grandson, Adam Bell, in 1985; along with her brothers, Avрил and Wendell; and a sister, Marie. A celebration of her life will be held 1 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 23, at Milo Baptist Church, Pleasant Street, Milo. As a tribute to her generosity the family has requested that any donations be made to Step Up Shelter, 913 Essex St., Bangor, ME 04401.

John W. Clement March 30, 1926 - January 15, 2010
MILO - John W. Clement, 83, husband of the late Louise (Crockett) Clement, died Jan. 15, 2010, at a Dover-Foxcroft nursing home. He was born March 30, 1926, in Milo, son of Wesley and Sarah (Bradshaw) Clement. John served with the U.S. Army Air Corps and had worked at Hamilton Standard in Connecticut, for many years, before moving back to Milo. He was a member of J.P. Chaisson American Legion Post No. 41 and was a faithful member of United Methodist Church of Milo. He is survived by two sons, a brother and five sisters. A memorial service will be held 11 a.m. Monday, Jan. 25, at United Baptist Church, Milo, with the Rev. Michele St. Cyr, of United Methodist Church, officiating. Arrangements are in care of Lary Funeral Home. Messages of condolence and memories may be expressed at www.laryfuneralhome.com. Published in Bangor Daily News on January 20, 2010
